Boston city

Boston was founded in 1630 by members of Massachusetts Bay Company, and named for the town in Lincolnshire in England from which many of them had come. For years, the city's commercial life was centered around Boston Harbor, and the practice of "wharfing out" led to the expansion of the waterfront on "filled" land. At one time, the most populous town in the Colonies, Boston was overtaken by New York and Philadelphia in the 1750s, and eclipsed as the leading American port by New York after completion of the Erie Canal in 1825.

Boston incorporated as a city in 1822, and later annexed the neighboring cities and towns of Roxbury (1868), Dorchester (1870), Brighton, Charlestown, West Roxbury (1874), and Hyde Park (1912). From its original 783 acres, Boston has grown by both landfill and annexation to its current size of approximately 24,000 acres and 48.2 square miles.

Manufacturing supplanted shipbuilding as Boston's leading industry in the late 19th century. After manufacturing began to decline in the mid 20th century, its place was taken by financial services (Boston gave birth to the mutual fund in 1924), higher education, health care, and, research and development. The city's population peaked at 801,444 in 1950, decreased for the next 30 years, and has grown in every decade since to its current figure of 589,141. Boston has also grown more diverse. Today, racial and ethnic "minorities" make up 50.5% of the total population.

ii. List of P (Population) and H (Housing) Tables in the Summary File 3 (SF3).

I. NOTES TO THE READER

1. Two of the important US Census 2000 data files used in the compilation of demographic reports are Summary File 1 (SF1) and Summary File 3 (SF3). SF1 uses the Short Form questionnaire while SF3 uses the Long Form Questionnaire. Moreover, SF1 is a 100% count giving data to the smallest level of census geography, the Block. SF3 is a sample count of 16% of the population giving data to the Block Group level which is a cluster of Blocks. In the aggregation of SF3 data for this report, the Planning Districts straddle Block Groups boundaries. These will have slightly different numbers from those aggregated using the SF1 data. Total population of the planning district, for example, the South End based on SF1 may show slightly different numbers if compiled using SF3. (See Appendix for a brief description of census geography. Short Form and Long Form Questionnaires can be found on the US Census Bureau website, American FactFinder: <http://factfinder.census.gov>)

2. Because of changes in the boundaries of Block Groups between 1990 and 2000, precise comparison of 1990 and 2000 data on Planning Districts/Neighborhoods is not possible.

3. Racial categories of population are limited to six. Hispanic population may be included in any racial group. White alone population includes Hispanic whites. The category of persons belonging to One or More Races is termed Multiracial.

4. Numbers within parentheses at the end of the table title represent table numbers assigned by the US Census. These table numbers are useful in accessing data using American FactFinder for different types of geography such as a Census Tract or a city. A list of P (Population) and H (Housing) Tables, which provide data at the Block Group level, is given in the Appendix. This report aggregates only Block Group level data as done for all the Planning Districts. However, data available only for Census Tracts can be aggregated to Boston city to generate a more extensive set of characteristics. The complete census tract data can be found on the US Census website.

5. While variables are retained in their original form, some of their class intervals have been aggregated into fewer intervals to make the tables simpler.

6. Some tables include additional derived data such as medians or per capita incomes.

7. For definition of terms, please see "Census 2000 Glossary", which is published as a separate document (Report # 568) by the BRA .

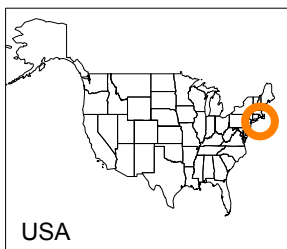

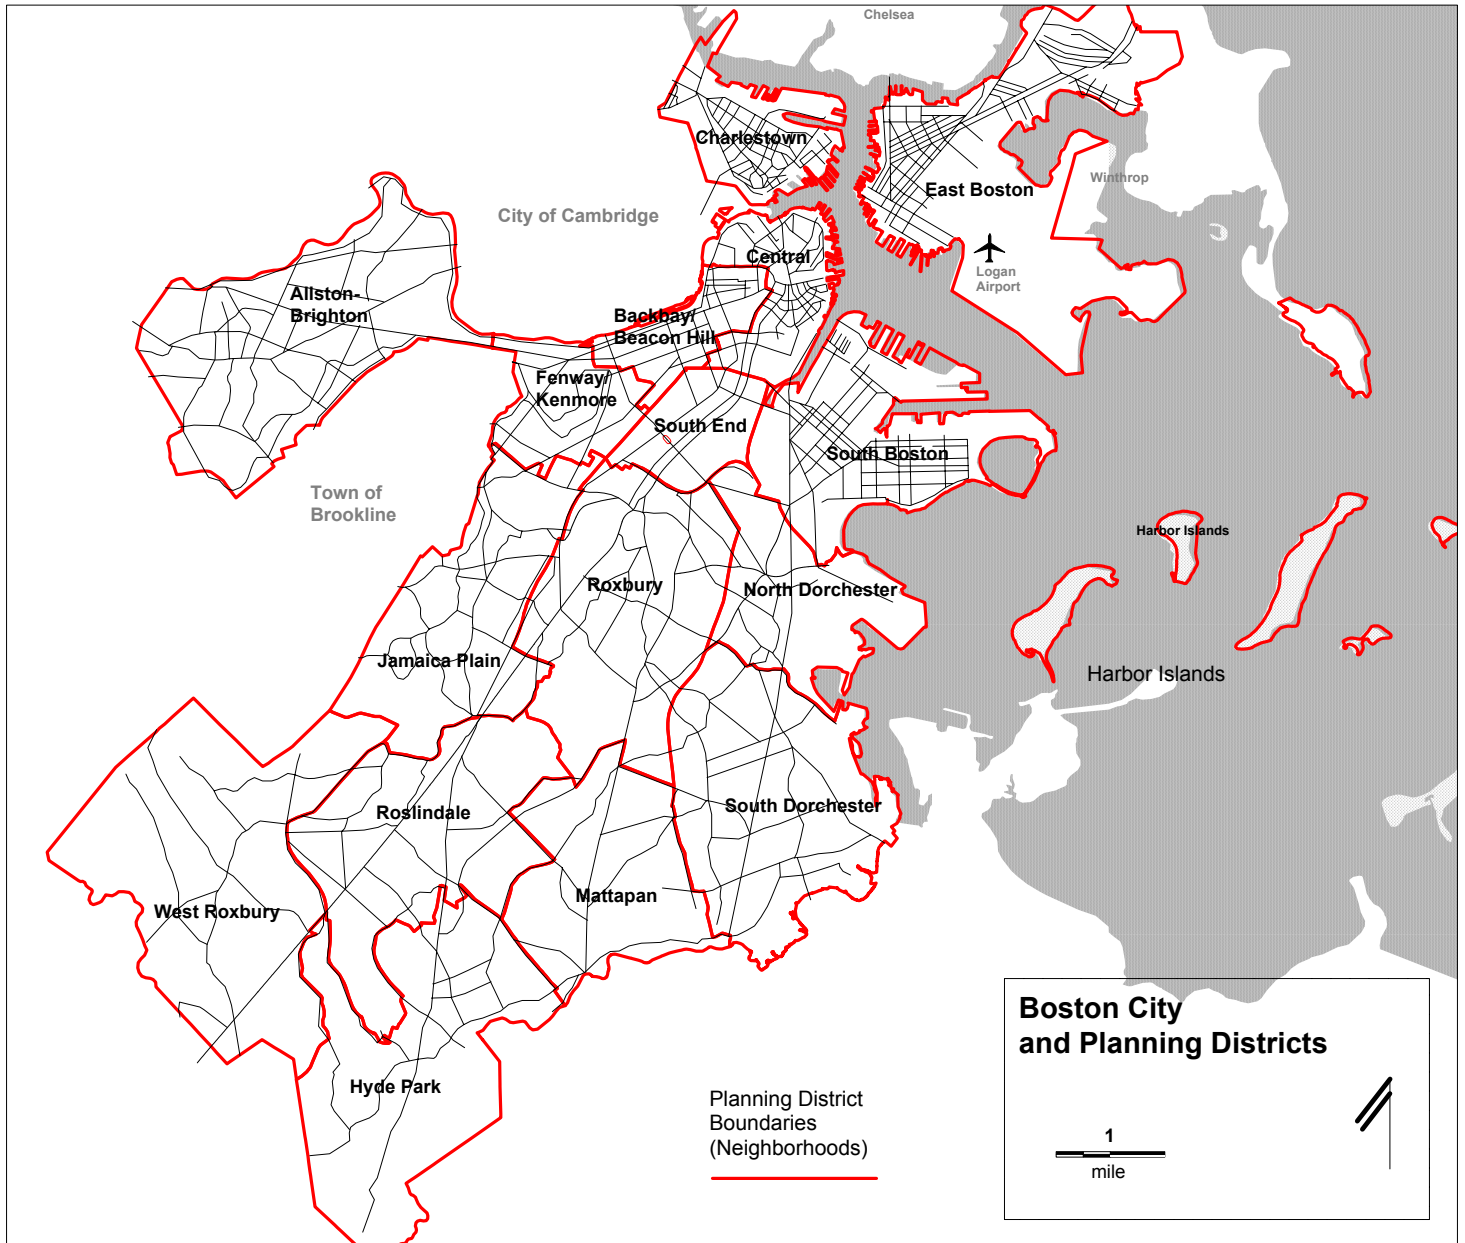

8. Income-related data such as household income, poverty rates, etc. refer to year 1999.
