

Fairmount Indigo Planning Initiative (FIPI)

In February 2012, the City of Boston launched the FIPI process focused on guiding physical and economic development, encouraging sustainable and transit-oriented growth, prioritizing economic prosperity for existing residents and businesses, and incorporating existing planning initiatives into one vision for the future. The effort involves two major approaches: Corridor-wide planning and Station Area planning.

FOUR CORNERS/GENEVA AVENUE

Final Report Outline

The result of the Station Area planning process is a Station Area plan that includes recommendations and strategies across a number of topic areas that have been the focus of the planning analyses and community conversations. The diagram below shows the main components of the Station Area plan.

MORE INFORMATION IS AVAILABLE AT WWW.FAIRMOUNTINDIGOPLANNING.ORG