Prioritization Board

Instructions

Everyone started with a deck with 16 priority statements and 1 blank, additional priority. The prioritization exercise consisted of 3 steps.

1. Choose 3 individually

Everyone chose his/her top 3 priorities and placed them on the board in the middle of the table.

2. Choose 5 together

After discussing, the table chose 5 priorities as a team. The top 5 priorities worked together as a set.

3. Share and present

Someone from each table volunteered to present the group's top 5 priorities.

Participants discussed priorities in the workshop.

Summary of Emerging Priorities

Highest Priority

Create housing for a range of income levels

Creating new housing for a range of income levels emerged as a top priority. The discussion focused on creating income-restricted housing options in addition to market-rate housing. Maintaining neighborhood stability and affordability for existing area residents was an important factor.

Overarching Priority

Plan for a Climate-Resilient Neighborhood

All groups felt that in order to realize other priorities, planning for climate resiliency should be an overarching priority.

Other Top Priorities

Create safe, walkable bike-friendly streets

Preserve and grow quality jobs

Create an active people-centric district through development

Improve transit options and neighborhood connections

Provide support for local business

Support cultural diversity of the neighborhood

Additional Notes on Priorities

Creating safe, walkable bike-friendly connections in the neighborhood to and from improved transit options was one of the emerging priorities.

Supporting local, small businesses with an emphasis on providing neighborhood amenities was one of the emerging priorities. Future development can provide new quality jobs and career pathways for residents.

Creating an active, people-centric district that supports the cultural diversity of the neighborhood was one of the emerging priorities.
